(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The British bark "Wynford" arrived today after an eventful voyage of 216 days from Hamburg. She sailed from that port on February 20, but put into Dover the same day on account of strong winds, sailing again on the 25th. On May 2 she encountered a gale which carried her far north and up the top of the North Sea. On March 15 a south-west gale was encountered which blew away several sails and on May 6 a strong gale accompanied by a heavy sea filled the decks to the hilt, flooded the forecastle and galley and caused the loss of many lives. On May 13 the bark's master found he had only bread enough to last seven weeks and headed his ship for Cape Town, where he could replenish his supplies. He arrived at the latter port on June 2, having lost the next day. Between May 21 and August 3 a successive of gales caused considerable damage to the vessel. The force of the waves was broken by oil poured on the waters and finally the storms abated.

POLITICAL
HEARST SUITS BOSS MURPHY.

Judgment Passed by Tammany, and He's Accepted.

Democrats of Empire State Protest in Vain.

Gov. Higgins Declines to Accept Renomination.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:
BUFFALO (N. Y.) Sept. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Busier probably than he ever has been before, Charles F. Murphy today listened to appeals, arguments and protests from approximately two hundred Democrats.

The strongest kind of pressure was brought to bear upon him to abandon Hearst and all thought of him and return to Judge Gaynor, Dist.-Atty. Jerome, or J. J. Adams.

Democrats who have a long record for regularity, and who have been intimately associated with the Tammany leader, pointed out to him the folly of taking up. He is still studying himself and the Democratic party, as well as trying to make a black eye from which it would not recover for many years.

"I am going north, south, east and west," he says. "The campaign is so placed as I will not be able to visit as many places as I would like to from Thursday until the election. I will speak every night except Sundays. During the day, I will seek to meet people in the various sections of the State, learn their political needs and find what they ask in the way of legislation. I want the people to know that I am deeply interested in their affairs and hope to aid them in the accomplishment of their purposes."

Hearst in Judgment. Commercio and other Hearst managers were trying to convince him that the delegates from up State could nominate Hearst; Democrats from all parts of the State were endeavoring to convince him that the Democratic party could win with some one else as standard-bearer; and that, consequently, all arguments favoring Hearst in the nomination were faulty and foolish.

ERIE NOT FOR HEARST. Murphy was sitting in judgment. All three State committeemen from Erie county and Edward E. Coatsworth, chairman of the Democratic County Committee. No one would state what the result of this conference was, but members of the committee declared the Erie delegates were not pledged to Hearst.

BOSS MURPHY'S HEART. Through the day, while not committing himself, Murphy stated to those men who sought him from time of the preservation of party purity and the party honor that he had no interest of the party at heart, and that he would do what he thought was right.

It was stated that the Tammany leader would issue a formal statement outlining his attitude on the question of candidates, but he decided to defer it.

After the meeting of the State Committee, Murphy adjourned his conference in his room. He was still at it at midnight, and the indications were that he would be at work until early tomorrow morning.

AFTER MIDNIGHT.

Later: This is the situation in the Democratic State Convention at midnight: Charles F. Murphy has come in reluctantly to W. R. Hearst. He has made no public statement of his position, but he has won delegations from Erie and other counties to support the Independence League candidate, and all the indications are that he would be at work until early tomorrow morning.

NIKON FOR CHAIRMAN. In the meeting of the State Committee tonight, Lewis Nixon was agreed upon unanimously as temporary chairman of the convention, but a show of strength on both sides was expected in making up the temporary roll of the convention.

There was a long discussion in the committee, which is still in session, and an effort being made to prevent the clash. Henry T. Burgeon, Erie county member of the committee, offered a resolution providing that the districts which are contested shall be left blank on the temporary roll. This involved fifty-one delegates, most of whom are pledged to the nomination of Hearst.

Reports from the committee room are to the effect that the Burgeon resolution has been accepted without a vote, but it is not known what position the committee has taken.

SULZER'S DISPLAY LAVISH. BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:
BUFFALO, Sept. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The campaign of Congressman Sulzer of New York is picturesque in a lavish display.

Dist.-Atty. Jerome was closeted in his apartments nearly all day, and Mayor McClellan, who is active in advocating the District Attorney for the gubernatorial nomination, conferred briefly with the delegates.

It was announced tonight that Senator Grady will offer in the Committee on Resolutions a resolution endorsing Bryan as the Presidential nominee in his action to be taken by Senator Grady. It is said to be the request of the Commercial Travelers' Auto-Trust League, which tendered the reception to Bryan upon his recent return from New York from his trip abroad.

Burrill, national committeeman, today said that he might remain through the convention as the guest of National Committeeman Norman E. Mack, though he had intended to return to Chicago today.

CALIFORNIA'S PROBLEM. SAN FRANCISCO OPINION.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is still too early to make any estimate of the vote that any of the gubernatorial candidates will poll, but it is reckoned here safe to say that Bell will not be first, and some good observers believe that, he will stand third on the list. According to advice, the great body of voters throughout the State, the people who wish to see the new president, have brought prosperity carried out will vote for Gillett, whose record is clean and who will make an effective campaign, as he is a sincere, convincing speaker.

He depends largely on strength on Hearst's two papers, but he also has many friends throughout the State and he will poll so large a vote that it will cut into Bell very seriously. In fact, three-quarters of Langdon's votes will come from Bell, and Bell cannot recoup from Repubcans, as few will vote for him since he represents everything antagonistic to them.

Bell is popular, and is a good campaigner, but his record will develop as problematical. What makes the vote more uncertain is the small registration in San Francisco and Alameda county. This may mean a difference of six or eight thousand votes.

GILLETT'S PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN.

WILL LEARN THE PUBLIC'S NEEDS AND DESIRES.

Will Visit All Sections of the State and Talk With the People, so That if Elected He May Know How to Direct Legislation in the Right Direction.

(From the San Francisco Call, Sept. 18.)—The busiest man in California today is James N. Gillett. From now until November 4 he will be incessantly on the go, traveling from one end of the State to the other, talking to thousands upon thousands of people, working night and day and sometimes wherever the exigencies of his campaign may leave him. He will be seen and heard in the big towns of the State. He will traverse the valleys and meet and discuss issues with men in every hamlet on his way. He will go into the mountains and then down the ranges again to the coast. His journey will be one of excitement, without rest and with little sleep, and after it is over he will be exhausted. He will speak to the people at the polls. His own conception of a State campaign in California is interesting.

"I am going north, south, east and west," he says. "The campaign is so placed as I will not be able to visit as many places as I would like to from Thursday until the election. I will speak every night except Sundays. During the day, I will seek to meet people in the various sections of the State, learn their political needs and find what they ask in the way of legislation. I want the people to know that I am deeply interested in their affairs and hope to aid them in the accomplishment of their purposes."

Allied Labor Organizations of Pittsburgh Make Demand of Citizens' Party, Which Promptly Turns Them Down—"Uncle Joe" is Show ing Missourians His Mettle.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The allied labor organizations today demanded of the Citizens' Party that they nominate former growth and prosperity, and is a vital article in the Republican faith.

"My contention has always been that the revision of the schedules must be in harmony with and based upon this policy; that our duties that are too high should be reduced, but so as to insure their efficiency as protective duties. Duties should always be high enough to give the domestic producer his home market at a reasonable profit, but they should never be high enough to enable the domestic producer to undersell the foreigner. The modification I worked for and shall continue to work for is therefore a Republican modification, for while it is true, according to my way of thinking, that the foreigner is compelled to pay un just prices, they have not wrought a tithe of the injury that would be inflicted by a revision of reduction at the hands of the Democrats."

HIGGINS WILL NOT RUN.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—Gov. Higgins declines to be a candidate for renomination before the Republican State Convention.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.

INFERNAL MACHINE FOR SCHIFF.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Intercepted in the mails here today by the postal authorities was an infernal machine addressed to James J. Hill on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange. It is believed that the bomb was mailed by Russian anarchists in revenge for Schiff's floatation of the Russian loan during the Japanese war. The device contained sufficient gunpowder and other explosive to have wrecked a skyscraper. Being too bulky to go into the mail box, the package had been left on the corner of a vacant lot hard by, where the postman could not fail to notice it.

PAUL REVERE HOUSE SAVED.

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After years of vicissitudes, the old Paul Revere house here has been saved to posterity through the efforts of the Paul Revere Memorial Association, which has raised funds to buy the house, repair it and keep it as a memorial to the great patriot. Many relics of Paul Revere will find a permanent resting-place there and the place will be kept open for visitors.

COLLIDE ON Isthmus.

COLON, Sept. 24.—Another serious head-on collision between a Panama freight and a Colon passenger train occurred yesterday within a mile of Friday's smash-up at Manzanillo, resulting in the loss of one life and three persons being seriously injured and the wreck of two new locomotives and several freight cars. The fault is said to have been with the freight train, which had been running on the wrong track instead of giving the right of way to the passenger train. This is the third wreck during the past week.

TAKES MONGOLIA'S PASSENGERS.

MIDWAY ISLAND (North Pacific) Oct. 24.—The passengers and mail on the steamship Mongolia have been transferred to the United States transport Buford. All the passengers are well and in good spirits. The Buford and the Mongolia will sail together on the voyage. The Mongolia is working under her own steam.

POLISH TOWN BURNS.

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—The local American newspaper prints that the Polish town of Przemysl, Poland, received via Breslau, saying that the town has been practically destroyed by fire. One hundred and forty-four dwellings and 158 farm buildings were burned.

SULTAN HAS CANCER.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—The Temps says it learns from absolute unquestionable sources that the latest consultations of medical advisers of the Sultan of Turkey have established that Abdul Hamid has a tumor growing in the kidney. This malady, the paper says, does not permit of an operation, and is usually fatal within a year.

JIM JEFFRIES TALKS FIGHT.

To Defend Heavyweight Title Against All Comers.

McCarey Tries to Arrange Another Battle.

Indian Joe Famous Carlisle Football Player.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—James Jeffries, who retired with the title of champion heavyweight of the world today announced that he was ready to reenter the ring. Jeffries, who returned today from an outing in the mountains, remained in this city for a few hours before departing for his home in Southern California.

Just before boarding the train Jeffries stated that he had decided to return to the ring because of the title he had won, because of the claims made by fighters who aspired to the championship. It is said that an effort is being made to match Jeffries against the winner of the O'Brien-Berger match which is believed to come off within the next few weeks.

HERMAN AND YANGER.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Manager McCarey of Los Angeles may be trying to match Benny Yanger and Red Herman it is known that the two are anxious to take on Yanger, but the only hitch was Yanger's demand for a large purse.

Who Will Jeff Fight?

If Jim Jeffries is sincere in his desire to fight again, and if he really would be willing to fight, McCarey can recoup any losses he may have sustained in the past, by securing Jim to appear in a series of bouts here. The Pacific Athletic Club pavilion could not contain all the men desiring admission to the fights. Jeffries would partake in them. Jim would be glad to fight here, it is believed, for he could be near home and friends, and would be a popular hero so long as he cared to remain in the limelight.

McCarey may see the big fellow when he arrives in Los Angeles tomorrow, and if any one can talk business with Jeff at this time, McCarey would come nearest in doing it. It is expected $100,000 or more in the time, also through Delaney by the fight syndicate, for a series of championship bouts, might be accepted at this time.

When Jeff makes his announcement, watch for the "Yankee" to move to the spots. O'Brien will be hunting for Bill Squires in Australia; Burns would make a sorry appearance beside the burly Jeffries; Kaufman and Berger could be taken on in the same night. If the "Yankee" and James Johnson won't get a show and could have no chance, etc., etc. Then who is there for Jeff to fight? There seems to be no one in sight, and the only reason Jeff can give for entering the ring is the money on love for the fighting game. Jeff can gain no new laurels unless he undertakes some fresh match, like fighting two men in one night or fighting a series of fights for a week, every bout for a minute. But no matter what Jeff does, the public will receive him with open arms.

HUNTING LIVE ONES.

Tom McCarey is trying to arrange a first-class match for his November date, and may have to go out of the circle of fighters now in Los Angeles to get it. There is no chance for O'Brien and Burns to go on in November, because of the Berger wedge, and there is not another pair of fighters hereabout who McCarey thinks would be willing to fight the public the kind of scrap it wants.

George Memrie (Jimmy Burns) and "Cyclone" Thompson come nearest to filling the hole, but if McCarey can do it he desires to put on men whom the public consider the main class. He would like to give these boys a chance, said McCarey last night, "but if I can put on a pair that will draw $100,000 or even $200,000 I must do it. The public's desires are reflected in the box office receipts, and I must arrange it so that both the public and myself are satisfied."

As McCarey is still behind some $200 as a result of the Nelson-Herrera fiasco, and one or two other losing ventures, the need for close business, manna little to turn a well-promising match into a losing one in the prize-fighting business. An accident in the ring, a fake fight, or a poor exhibition would knock the boxing game sky-high for a time. Then there is the selling of the next fight, which will depend on McCarey to make hay while the sun shines.

Thompson was closeted nearly an hour yesterday afternoon with McCarey, who told him that he was treated with satisfaction. McCarey gave him his consideration nevertheless. It is understood that McCarey is looking to Chicago for material. Yanger, Mowatt, Neary, and a dozen other good ones are in the Windy City. One of them has been selected for a first-rate, though scarcely a first-rate, boxer. Indian Joe is to have good fight in him. Mowatt, though scarcely a first-rate, always puts up a good fight, and can be depended on. Indian Joe would draw well in Los Angeles, for he makes a reputation when he gives. However, such a drawing a few weeks ago.

FAIR CARLISLE MAN.

Indian Joe, who fights the Terrible Turk and Jim Tremble in the main preliminary before the Burns-Flynn match October 2, agreeing to put both away inside of ten rounds, heretofore has kept his light hidden under a bushel. Indian Joe is none other than Joe Schmidt, former manager of the team and with McCoey and Miller when Carlisle turned out her first great championship football team under Coach Warner, a number of years ago. Metzner, the greatest Indian fullback ever seen, and Indian Joe's room-mate, many a time the pair plunged through left tackle or guard for big gains in games long famous. Joe played left half and was considered one of the best players in the country. A son or two ago Indian Joe played on the Reliance football team of San Francisco, the all-star aggregation of the Pacific Coast. He coached the Thawma Indian School team in Oregon, and was training for the University of Washington under Coach Knight, formerly of Michigan. Joe might have a good position still had he taken care of himself. "Firewater," the enemy of all Indians, was the bane between Joe and Carlisle. But his fondness for red-eye, Joe might be a champion in prize fighting as well as football. He has fought some corking good fights in the North and has made a good impression here in the preliminaries, coming in well. He appeared, Manager McCarey thinks very well of the young man and might give him a good match if he could depend upon it that Joe would get into condition.

Heretofore, in every occasion that Indian Joe has appeared in the ring in Los Angeles, he has been overweight and in no condition to fight.

RULES PROVE SATISFACTORY.

First Football Game Played at Occidental.

Changes in Style Observed With Interest.

"Preps" Unexpectedly Defeat Upper Classmen.

In the first American football game under the new rules ever played in Southern California, the Occidental "preps" defeated the upper classmen, yesterday afternoon, 4 to 8. The outcome was a great surprise, and the upper classmen thought it would be easy. It was the first of the class games that have been substituted for the class rushes, and the change met with the unanimous approval of the students.

The teams had not had very much practice, so a good idea as to just how the new game will differ from the old could not be obtained, but it is certain that the play will be more open, the running more rapid, and the amount of "dirty" playing in scrimmages largely eliminated. The upper classmen outweighed the "preps" ten pounds per man, but they found it very difficult to keep the ten yards in three downs. The former record of winning four times, and when fully mastered by a team will prove an effective means of gaining ground. The "one side clause" which makes everybody on one side as an automatic winner is given up. The ground is a decided advantage to the kicking side, and gives an opportunity for some lively "scraps" over the ball.

The necessity of gaining ten yards in three downs will make scoring very difficult, and the game will be evenly matched. From yesterday's performance it would seem that one team should be ten or fifteen points stronger than its opponent in order to cover the ground and make a spectacular stand. The new name will be superior to the old one. There were many pretty end runs in yesterday's game and the people in the bleachers were able to follow the ball throughout the game.

The "preps" made their tally a few minutes after the game began. They worked the ball down to their opponents' 10-yard line and Wiemant kicked a pretty good field goal. There was only one probability of a score after this. The upper classmen got down to the 2-yard line of the "preps" but lost the ball on a fumble.

The players were astounded, but invariably the teams were forced to kick on their third down. Deckman and Edwards of the "prep" team proved very gritty and fast, and followed the ball like veterans. Once, Merrill played a game for the upper classmen, and Crane and Crane showed up well. Wiemant, who made a record as a punter last year, showed his old-time form and placed the ball well. Parsons and Moffat played hard and fast.

This afternoon the freshmen and sophomores will play and the game will be a close one. These teams have had more practice than any of the other classes, probably will put up a tough fight, and the contest to the place of their usual class rushes.

The "preps" and the team which wins this afternoon will play for the championship of the college later in the week, and interest is high. The "preps" are the average team of the school, as the average team of the school has put forth in the past few years.

Polytechnic and Harvard begin practice this week, and before many weeks the high schools will be hard at it fighting for the championship that now rests with the Los Angeles High.

On Sunday we to about the racing world it is known that the success of a yacht is based upon the skill of her skipper makes a mistake at the start. Much more it tends toward ultimate defeat than he knows and feels that he has made a subject for meriment or by some other skipper. When things occur before a closely- packed public, personal vanity and in most cases the subsequent mood, in which he wants to kill something, and it is often vents his spleen over boat, flinging his helm this way and that, as a bad-tempered rider to his horse. One result of this is a racing skipper was not consideration. If it be true that the Constitution was the better of the accomplished the unparalleled in sailing an inferior boat that was selected to the United States for the trials contests, and always for Uritis. Rhodes is as good a as any one could wish but in the name of trial, he is educated to be thorough "ruthless in the stars." While maneuvering before the one-gun starts, he never plan is suddenly to turn and rush his boat down and forward you can savage himself to do the work he is compelled to do by the wish to save life and avoid wreck.

Perhaps I can best explain through personal experiences with W. Gouin Brokaw

and his racing skipper partner was then in charge of the Colonia (now Corona) and Hank Haff was in charge of the start. We stood for the start, he clung on the starboard side with the right of the starboard, when Barr swung the Co-lona down on us like the end of a ball. The big Colona, ca-under immense topgall, towers, drove us as she foamed in the water, and when she had been pulled and used language,

Hank Haff said a bad word.

He was not in human nature to escape flinching.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

TO THE small boy there's no gain-saying the attraction of the circus, and even among older people there's a hungering for the wonders of this sort of a show. Another jolly party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Geison Posey and Misses Louise Burke and Helen Newlin, and Carlton Burke and Gurney Newlin.

Miss Smith's Tea.

Miss Clara Smith of No. 229 West Twenty-second street has issued invitations for an afternoon tea from 3 until 6 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, October 6.

For Miss Ruby.

On Saturday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock, Archibald Sessions entertained in honor of Miss Blanche Ruby on Wednesday evening, October 16. Mr. Oliver is well known in Los Angeles, being of the firm of Oliver & Haines, and his engagement to Miss Irma Gordon, which was announced recently, caused a stir. In the first place, for she was one of the attractive Southern belles who visited here last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver will go for a trip through the East and on their return to Los Angeles will be at home at the Hinman, after November 15.

Miss Sweeny is Engaged.

Huckabee, and the wedding to take place at the Plaza Hotel, December 12, at St. Vincent's College. Miss Sweeny is an attractive young blonde and the groom is a young business man of the city. The news comes as a surprise to many friends, though the ceremony is so near. Miss Ethel Sweeny, sister of the bride, is the daughter of Mr. and the best man is to be Russell Huckabee, brother of the groom. After the wedding there will be a reception held at the home of the bride's parents.

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Aldrich of No. 229 West Thirty-seventh street celebrated their silver wedding anniversary with a reception and mock wedding, in which they were assisted by their children and other friends.

The house was prettily garnished with flowers and in the front and back parlors, where the service took place, silver tinsel shone in and among the greens and formed a shiny border.

Secret Gets Out.

Friends of Miss Rhoda Adelade Parke will be glad to learn that she was married over the weekend to the Wesley Sprague at Santa Ana. Just after the formal announcement was made, Mr. Sprague decided that a large church wedding would not do for his bride, and he coaxed her away to their home, where they quietly wedded by Rev. H. Stevens. They have since taken a cottage at Ocean Park, and not one of their friends knew of their marriage for a few weeks. They told not even the bride's father until three days afterward, but he gave them his blessing notwithstanding his astonishment.

They will later make their home in the city at No. 1740 Harvard boulevard, where the groom has erected a home for his bride.

hurriedly follows the rest to the mess-tent.

This mess-tent is an immense affair, with long tables in mathematical rows. By the time the people from the side-show get there, it is empty except for the boys cleaning away the dirty dishes. The Indian, the Chinese, the trilogue, the Indian Prince, and the giant have a little corner for themselves that is not disturbed except for the clatter of the dishwashers.

NOISIEST PART OF SHOW.

But the dishwashers make enough noise to drown any remarks. The dishes are not china—if they were, each circus ground would be littered as after a clay pigeon shoot, and the commissary department would be more dismal than it is. The dishes are enamel ware, with good sounding possibilities. They may be in rattling heaps to the washing table, dumped in rattling chorus into the washing pans, and fired in staccato succession to the wipers. They are then piled in shining raps, and packed by hundreds into great boxes by an army of helpers.

Meanwhile conversation goes on. A

PLATFORM GRAFTER GUILTY.

Police Believe That S. K. Bland Is Professional Stealer of Travellers' Valises.

A "platform grafted" is the police term by which S. K. Bland is called, according to local officers. Bland, who was caught by Patrolman E. D. Murray running away with two suit cases in the Santa Fe station, was found yesterday to have in his possession much stolen property. The police believe that he is a professional thief, and detectives are at work investigating his record.

The capture of Bland by Policeman Murray resulted in immediate arrest on a petty larceny charge. It is not possible, however, that grand larceny will be the accusation later. He was tried in the Police Court yesterday, found guilty, and will be sentenced on the minor charge today.

What is known in thieves' slang and in police parlance as "platform grafting" is the stealing of valises in stations and other public places. The practice has been well-nigh perfected in the East by skilled robbers who ply their trade in passenger stations. Some of these have expertly contrived to use a small valise with hooks which grapple a smaller valise when the thief's sham valise is set down over it. In using this appliance, thieves have robbed many travelers, and have walked off with the property under the noses of the victims.

Many Foreigners to Cast
First Ballots.

The new boy at school—the way they circle around him the first day at recess, is the way the politicians are going after the thousands of new voters whose names are adorning the Great Register, which is just about completed.

DO YOU WISH TO VOTE?

You can't vote in November unless your name is on the Great Register. Registration for the coming election will close on Wednesday, September 26. State, Congressional and county tickets are to be elected. Republicans who have not already registered should make it their business to do so at the earliest possible opportunity, and should also urge every Republican to register if he has not done so. There are still many unregistered voters in Los Angeles, city and county, and every name should be on the registration lists before next Wednesday, September 26.

CEMENT FOR THE AQUEDUCT. Material Found Along Line of Owens River Conduit Produces Cement of Remarkable Quality.

Engineers of the Los Angeles aqueduct have found along the line of work materials for making cement of remarkable quality for the construction of the conduit. Samples of the cement have been tested with results not only satisfactory, but surprising.

The best imported cement shows forty-eight hours after moulding a tensile strength of 1,000 pounds to the square inch. The forty-eight hour test of cement made of material found on the conduit line shows tensile strength of 738 pounds. The sample block shows very fine, even and dense, and is found remarkably all the tests to which it is subjected. A conduit constructed of such cement will be the same as a tunnel through solid, massive rock, and its strength will increase.

Probably the city will build its own cement factory and secure better material than it could buy and at a lower cost.

COOL WEATHER. MORE WATER.

SAN FERNANDO SITUATION IS SLIGHTLY RELIEVED.

Stopping of Pumps Increased River Flow at Once—Hot Weather in October May Cause Trouble if Injunction Is Disregarded—Water Board not Responsible.

Moderation of the weather has relieved temporarily the strain upon the city's water resources which made necessary the service of injunction notices upon pumpers in San Fernando Valley, but it is feared that the usual October hot spell will cause trouble. Although the last two winters were unusually wet, the water in Los Angeles River is lower than ever, and the city works have no margin of safety that can be depended upon.

During the summer Superintendent Mullolland gave reliable notice that conditions would probably arise in September and October to make necessary the enforcement of the order of court prohibiting pumping in San Fernando. He said that the president dictated suspension of pumping at once, but he was loth to invoke the order and would take some risk rather than cause the ruin of crops. He gave the ranchers notice of what he expected, but nothing was not taken by surprise when the notices were served.

Many of the ranchers obeyed the injunction promptly, and stopped their pumps, and the result was an increase in the flow of water in the city's conduits. Those who did not obey the order, and those who are being incited by the power companies organ to defy the injunction, will be held responsible to deal with. The Water Commission and Superintendent Mullolland have nothing further to do with the matter. They informed the court of the conditions making execution of the decree necessary, and the court of the city, and the master now lies between the court and the pumpers.

Superintendent Mullolland says he has discharged his duty as guardian of the city's water supply and has no further responsibility for the outcome. He will not suggest action, as it is not his province to give advice to the courts. If the injunction is disregarded and a shortage of water results next month no one else can shoulder the responsibility.

NEGRO SAVES PEOPLE'S LIVES. Clings to Bridges of Runaway Team Amid Hundreds of Women and Children.

W. H. Rosier is a negro, a black, unemployed son of Ham, the humble driver of a delivery wagon. He could not recite verses from the Odes of Horace or tell you why Leander swam the Hellespont. If heroes are to be enumerated, Rosier's name might be written somewhere in the list.

Rosier risked his life yesterday to prevent harm to women and children, hundreds of them. Leaping from his wagon during the circus parade, he grasped the bridles of a runaway team of horses, and hung swinging in front of the maddened steeds until they stopped. The horses had run amuck, frightened by the roar of a circus lion. B. A. Ames, driver of the team, was thrown into the street. He lay unconscious while the steeds galloped on into the crowd. Mrs. John Hinckley of No. 21 West Thirty-eighth street was pushing a baby buggy, carrying her infant. The horses bore down upon her. She screamed and fainted as they struck the baby carriage, shattering it to splinters. The baby, strapped in, was saved.

Rosier's deathlike grip on the bridles stopped the horses before they killed any one. Ames was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where his cut scalp was dressed by surgeons.

ANNIVERSARY OF COLLEGE. Osteopathic Institute, Which Moved Here from the East, Enters Upon Second Year.

The second year of the Los Angeles College of Osteopathy began at No. 311 Clay street, with an enrollment of 100 students. The building, practically completed, and will be ready for occupancy by October 1. Meanwhile, the college work will proceed in an adjoining building.

This is the institution whose faculty, together with a large number of students, removed to this city from Des Moines, and Kirkville, Mo., a year ago. The enrollment last year was nearly one hundred students the first year, and are now receiving a class of from thirty to fifty new students.

The new college building is of brick, five stories, with a roof garden and steam heated. The usual laboratories, surgical, gynaecological and obstetric, operating and assembly rooms are provided. It is claimed to be one of the most completely appointed osteopathic college buildings in existence.

NO BLAME ATTACHED.

No blame was attached by the Coroner's jury for the accident by which Harry Palmer met his death Friday night in the explosion of his motor. The inquest was held yesterday morning. The facts which developed were substantially those recited in the newspaper accounts. Palmer was a man in his 30s. East Third-street machine shop. It seemed to him, and in spite of the fact that much of his brain was exposed, he lived twelve hours.

Prospect Park Church Stir

Soldier-Preacher Knighten Is

"Not Calls Enough" Is One Man's Complaint.

Rev. Will A. Knighten, the soldier parson, has recently been made the target of attack by a few of his parishioners in the Prospect Park Methodist Church, but the fighter comes out of the skirmish with flying colors held high. When Rev. Mr. Knighten took charge of the congregation, the minutes of the conference show that it had property valued at $300, with a debt of $60; 51 members and 137 enrolled in the Sunday-school.

He has now built a neat new church, and the expense is valued at $10,000, with a debt of something less than $2000; 126 members and 212 enrolled in the Sunday-school.

In addition to reporting 500 pastoral calls during the year, preaching every Sunday, and attendance upon all sorts of meetings in his congregation, he conducted mid-week services and officiated at six-and-a-half funerals. It is scarcely necessary to say that nearly all of both were outside his own congregation. He also delivered thirty outside addresses, attended twenty-five ministers' meetings, wrote 200 letters, and received 50 callers at the parsonage.

For a sick man, that looks like a pretty rigorous bill of fare, and Knighten was sent to Prospect Park to recover his health.

His continuing series of sixteen years in and about the city had drawn heavily upon the time and energy of a man so active as Rev. Mr. Knighten, and there were as many demands upon him, at the time he went to Prospect Park, that it was difficult for him to make as many pastoral calls as some people out there thought he should make, and in an interview with J. B. Murphy, the leader of what is really a very unimportant opposition to the preacher, a Times reporter was told that there was no other complaint against him.

However, the soldier-parson is not a man to "lay down" without speaking his mind, so when he made his final report on last Sunday he plainly told the people back of the "kites" just how much of his time was required for outside activities, and he added that it was necessary for him to do this in order to live on the "salary you pay me." His talk naturally made some of the members "sore," and Mr. Murphy voiced the additional charge against him that his language was "uncertain and uncouth."

THANKS AND CONFIDENCE.

Rev. Mr. Knighten said that the church, Mr. Murphy is undeserved, and cites the fact that at the close of his sermon on Sunday morning, and against his will, a visiting Baptist preacher insisted upon taking a vote of thanks and confidence, and these were voted. Three or four members who left their seats, and one of these was Mr. Murphy.

In 1902 Mr. Knighten was assigned to Newman Church, this city, in broken health after six years in Belmont Church. He had only begun his work at Newman Church when he was ordered by his physician to go to the seashore, and he took a cottage at Long Beach, where he lived during almost the entire year, coming to the city for his services and to meet such other urgent calls as came to him. Under these circumstances in 1903 he consented to go to Prospect Park, where there was a small church and a small congregation, in order to regain his health. At the end of the year he was in fairly good health again and did not want to be sidetracked any longer, and asked to be given a better appointment, but his work at Prospect Park had been so good and his health so greatly improved, that it was decided to keep him there at least another year. The conference which will convene at Riverside today will undoubtedly send him to another appointment, inasmuch as he has served three years at Prospect Park.

AT THE CITY HALL FORMAL ACT ON OUTFALL SEWER.

BOARD IS TO CONTRACT FOR SEC- TION THREE.

City Council Passes Resolution as a Special Prosecution Against Future Legal Entanglements and Bids Will Be Advertised at Once.
Will Discuss Charter Amendments.

The Board of Public Works may now proceed with the awarding of a new contract for the completion of that troublesome Section 3 of the city's outfall sewer. The City Council formally provided for this at its session yesterday afternoon.

A resolution prepared by the City Attorney was passed providing that the Board of Public Works be empowered with authority to contract in accordance with the original plans and specifications for the completion of Section 3 from station 242 plus 47-25 to station 316 plus 20.

This precaution was taken so that every step of the city in its attempts to overcome the difficulties of the dangerous outfall section of Stamford and Powell will be safeguarded from possible future legal complications.

The Board of Public Works will at once advertise for bids for the completion of the outfall, and at last the long-drawn-out enterprise is in a fair way to be resumed.

CHARTER AMENDMENTS.

COUNCIL WILL DISCUSS THEM.

The City Council will hold an adjourned session tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to consider the revision of the city's charter and various proposed charter amendments. It is proposed that the Council will appoint a Revision Committee, so that the proposed amendments may be submitted to the next session of the State Legislature and authorization secured to place the same before the citizens for their approval or rejection at the polls.

It is understood that one of the chief amendments will deal with the powers of the Owens River Commissioners, and another will be a provision of changes in the Board of Education as to number constituting a quorum and mode of filling vacancies. At the same time, a provision will be made in the charter, allowing both the board itself and the City Council to fill any vacancies which may occur. It is also likely that an amendment proposed will provide for the creation of at least two new city wards.

CITY HALL Notes.

A resolution was adopted by the City Council yesterday authorizing the advertising for bids for a new elevator for the City Hall.

Provision was made at yesterday's session of the City Council for the appointment of a machinist for the Bureau of Street Maintenance and a supervisor. The City Council, however, has no eligible, and the appointment will be an emergency one until examinations are held for candidates for this position.

An ordinance fixing the salaries of the City Engineer's department was passed by the City Council yesterday upon the recommendation of the Board of Public Works. The new ordinance provides for seven new assistants in the City Engineer's office.

The Board of Public Works sent a communication to the City Council yesterday, calling attention to the fact that the spur track of the Santa Fe Railroad Company on Broadway street is constructed within a few feet of the curb line of the south side of the street, thus cutting off property owners on that side of the street from the use of the highway. It appears that the railroad company has the right to the franchise, and the Board of Public Works asks that hereafter all applications for spur-track franchises be accompanied by maps to be filed with the City Engineer and a notice of notice be placed upon the ground so that the property owners may learn what is asked for and the manner in which their property will be affected by the proposed spur. The subject was referred to the committee of a whole.

That Crooked Railway.

After all the work by various improvement associations and individuals for the straightening of Macy street from Broadway to Avenue Gallard street, and therefore providing for the straightening out of the dangerous curves on the Brooklyn-avenue electric road, the action of the City Council may affect the placing of the franchise in its original constitution. On motion of Councilman Blanchard of the Ninth Ward the Council voted to sustain the protests of property owners who objected to the proposed street opening, and that all concerned have abandoned it. It is understood, however, that there will be no cessation.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

SUES AGAIN FOR TEN THOUSAND.

MRS. FLEET CLAIMS DAMAGES FOR WOMAN'S REMARKS.

Robbery of Jewels From House in Long Beach Leads to Alleged Slandering of Visitor to the Home.

Jury in First Trial Disagreed With-out Returning Verdict.

Mrs. Bessey Fleet is making a second attempt to secure $10,000, which she claims is due her as damages from Mrs. Adelaine Tichenor of Long Beach.

Mrs. Fleet bases her claim on the alleged injury done to her character and reputation by Mrs. Tichenor, who, Mrs. Fleet claims, made remarks which reflected seriously upon Mrs. Fleet's character.

Mrs. Tichenor claims that whatever she may have said, she asserted without any malicious intent, but only because it was true. She also asserted that she went to trial last year, Attorney Piton and Alderman represented the plaintiff and then Attorneys Byron Waters and Denio appeared for the defendant. The jury in the first case disagreed and was discharged. It was stated that they had stood eight to four in favor of the plaintiff.

This suit for damages is now up again before a jury in Judge Bordwell's court, and bears upon what was once regarded as one of the mysterious happenings of the year.

For several years Mrs. Fleet has gone often to the home of Mrs. Tichenor. Mrs. Tichenor is a woman of some means, is interested in club work, and is a member of the Western Union Club, which is the largest women's club in Los Angeles. The Western Union takes the stand that as the charter was granted by the United States government, such a franchise is not assessable by the city of Los Angeles, and that a portion of the sum of $10,000 was illegal. The subject was referred to the City Attorney.

Money Returned.

The Western Union Telegraph Company yesterday, through its attorney, F. H. Lamb, asked the City Council to authorize the return to that company of the sum of $10,000 paid by it under compulsion and protest as taxes on an assessment of its franchise.

The proposition had the endorsement of every member of the Council at yesterday's session.

THE FEDERAL COURTS.

TWO OPINIONS FROM WELLBORN.

INTERESTING DECISIONS BY FED- ERAL JUDGE.

Water Suit of San Fernando Against This City Thrown Out of Court for Want of Jurisdiction, While Injunction is Granted Sun- set Men Against Pomona.

Two important decisions were handed down yesterday by Judge John Olin Wellborn in the United States Circuit Court.

One of these is based primarily upon the water controversy between the city of Los Angeles and the San Fernando ranchers. The other is upon the injunction application of the Sunset Telephone people against the city of Pomona. In the water suit, the cause of non-jurisdiction was the ground of non-jurisdiction. In the other action, the injunction prayed for by the corporation was granted.

POMONA'S TROUBLES.

The troubles of Pomona with the telephone corporation began some time ago when, without authority according to the Pomonaans, the Sun-set Telephone people, within a radius of 10 miles, began placing its wires through the streets of the inland town. Valiant citizens with axes brought down many of the offending wires, and then the telephone company, for an injunction from the Circuit Court, restraining such removal until the merits of the case could be decided in an action already commenced.

Judge Wellborn's decision does not affect the final outcome in any manner.

Part of his text is as follows: "That the suit involves a substantial controversy as to the right of the corporation to have its franchise on the poles and wires on defendant's streets without a special franchise from defendant is perfectly obvious. It is equally obvious that defendant will do little, if any, harm from the consumption of said lines in the streets during the pendency of the suit, though it should be ultimately held that said lines are now unlawfully maintained while complainant would suffer great if not irreparable injury from the destruction or removal of said lines. If the court should ultimately sustain the claims of the corporation, the corporation will be compelled to pay the expenses of the訴訟."

"The questions of the law for determination on the merits, being im- portant and not free from difficulty, should be reserved until the final hearing."

"This brief summary shows clearly that the situation of the parties as to the injunction is not clear, and the court should be advised to postpone the hearing until the merits are determined."

SAN FERNANDO WATER.

The water action was commenced by the Grant's Pass Land and Water Company against the city of Los Angeles, and the bill prayed that this municipality should be restrained from taking water from the San Fernando Valley. Judge Wellborn's brief would indicate that he believes the State courts alone have jurisdiction, as he states that it is not within the domain of a United States Court.

BANKRUPTS.

Three creditors of Sam Ellis, local merchant, have petitioned the U. S. District Court that he be declared bankrupt. The creditors and their amounts are: The Nichols-Hamell Company, $25,462; Newmark Brothers, $22,27; Los Angeles Hay-Storage Company, $14,69.

S. T. Cull, a farmer of Redfield, Fresno county, would be voluntarily bankrupt. He says he owes $20,229, with no assets.

BOND ELECTION. The Board of Supervisors yesterday issued the call for the county bond election on November 22. When the time had been informally discussed and an earlier date almost decided upon, the difficulty in connection with the close of the Great Register developed and the date named was adopted. The voters at this election will decide whether $900,000 worth of bonds shall be issued to permit of improvement and purchase of land at the Courthouse, County Farm, and Detention Home.

SPICY CASE. Yesterday the divorce suit of John J. Stadler against Flora S. Stadler was begun before Judge James J. Johnson. The wife married him in 1886, and the husband alleges that he with six witnesses caught his wife and Clarence H. Sampson in a house on Widney street in November last. Mrs. Stadler denies the charge, and is contesting the suit. Stadler was on the witness stand yesterday.

CASE CONTINUED. E. McKenzie, motorman of the car on the Redondo line that figured in an accident recently, was brought into court yesterday before Justice Pierce yesterday. Whitely, conductor of the car, fled from the city after the wreck, and has not yet been located. For this and other reasons McKenzie's examination was continued until October 8.

GARBALL DID IT. Annette G. Garball was granted a divorce yesterday from George Garball, oil man, of this city in May, 1905. Mrs. Garball testified that her husband was lazy and would not work, and added cruelty to his shortcomings. Last May he met his end on Hillside street, and assaulted her so violently that he was arrested and sentenced to pay $75 or serve 75 days in jail. He served the time.

MEXICAN CONVICTED. Juan Gonzalez was tried yesterday before a jury in Judge Smith's department, on the charge of attacking an eleven-year-old girl, Carmen Sanchez. The jury was out about half an hour and returned a verdict of guilty.

astrously for William Boyd.

William Frederickson of the City Prosecutor's office spent an unhappy half-hour yesterday afternoon disentangling the threads of an ugly Mexican affair, and when he had done issued a complaint on which a warrant was given for the arrest of J. Falconi, a Sonoran saloon-keeper. Battery is the charge, and the complaining witness says he was a victim of untoward circumstances. Falconi, who was arrested yesterday afternoon, and remained on bail, will be arraigned in Police Court this morning.

A typical Mexican affair, characterized by violent language and drawn knives, resulted in the complaint. And this affair came because three leather-clothed denizens of Sonoran town had been beaten. They were in Falconi's place and sided up to the bar with the pall-large and battered. Another of their race, Jose Delgado, who swore to the complainant when the two men were thrown out, was present. Rev. Charles Phillips and the detective, that she (Mrs. Fleet) had secured the key to the Tichenor house, had entered and stolen jewelry.

What gives an added snap to the suit is that some friction had developed between Mrs. Tichenor and Mrs. Fleet since the time of the robbery. Both were in the bar with the pall-large and battered. Another of their race, Jose Delgado, who swore to the complainant when the two men were thrown out, was present. Rev. Charles Phillips and the detective, that she (Mrs. Fleet) had secured the key to the Tichenor house, had entered and stolen jewelry.

Remembering this, Falconi took Delgado to task when the fun was over, and failed to get an apology for the assault. His relatives in San Francisco. After bidding good-bye to his family he and his pretty young wife started for New York, where Boyd was to have a good position.

Boyd is about twenty-five years of age. He used to be a remittance man. After his marriage in San Francisco in October, 1904, he determined to begin life over again. His relatives in San Francisco. After bidding good-bye to his family he and his pretty young wife started for New York, where Boyd was to have a good position.

Mr. Boyd testified that after their arrival in Gotham, Boyd went on a debauch. That was just after he had passed a quarter century. His effort to quit it was as fast as possible. The boy was filled with beer and the Mexicans volunteered the information that they had not the wherewithal with which to pay his fare. They followed a lively row. With a revolver the saloon man managed to subdue the enthusiastic men who approached him with a knife and a club and uprooted him. Previous to this last Delgado had remarked, "Aw, let 'em have the beer."

been young, as a most agreeable dramatic event. They who are yet young, and have never been seen in it, will find a new and untold pleasure in it for its unusual attractiveness is that of lavender, and true love, and sweet and simple rural memories. No tenor and soprano problem play is "Fanchon the Cricket"—only a rather threadbare story woven into beauty with tenderness and skill.

The comedy, however, in the second act takes a long time, but not too long for the patience of the delighted audience: for the graceful, kaleidoscopic figures of the dance are full of life, and youth, and color. The "shadow dance," too, is done by Flora Dorset, who plays the part of Fanchon, has much charm and animation. Almost every character in the comedy was well placed last night, the work of Flora Dorset, George Howard and Guy Witmer being particularly good. As part of the scenery there were flashing lights and chirping crickets, neither of them too real for true artistic effect.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

CALL FOR BOOKS IS IMMENSE.

OPEN SCHOOLS MAKE GREAT DEMAND IN PASADENA.

First Day's Attendance Taxes Every School in the City to its Capacity. Much Accomplished in Vacation on the New Buildings, Under Direction of Assistant Superintendent.

Office of the Times, No. 24 Raymond Ave. PASADENA, Sept. 24.—The public schools opened this morning with an attendance that taxed every schoolhouse in the city to its capacity. Long before the hour for the doors to be open there were long lines of children waiting around the buildings and, after the sessions were called to order, the teachers had a busy time of it getting the names of the pupils in the classes.

No attempt was made at having recitation as few of the pupils had their school books ready, as soon as the initialities of registrations were done and the list of text-books had been given out, the school adjourned for the day.

Every book store in Pasadena, where school books are sold, did a rushing business this day and to meet the demand that it was impossible to supply many of the books. When closing time arrived the clerks were still busy selling books and there was no time for dinner or anything else. The merchants of Pasadena were under enormous demands made upon them and in many subjects the teachers will be handicapped by a lack of books for several days. There was particular trouble experienced in securing the school books as there have been some changes made since last year, and the usual supply of second-hand books could not be procured.

Tomorrow morning the schools will have the first recitations, and will like the work for the coming year. In spite of the great initial attendance it was found possible to accommodate every pupil that applied, though some of the rooms are badly crowded, and the teachers will be handicapped in their work by a lack of space.

The Young Woman's League will give the first party and dance tomorrow evening at their rooms on East Colorado street. This will be the first social affair since the purchase of the new piano, which the league members have worked faithfully to procure.

Miss Anna Adams, No. 82 Cypress avenue will start from Chicago on Wednesday homeward bound. Miss Adams had spent the last three months visiting relatives in Indiana.

Mrs. Rosenbaum will entertain the Woman's League of the Universalist Church on Thursday with a lawn picnic at her home on Grand avenue.

Mrs. Catherine Love and Misses Elsie and Mabel Love of North El Molino avenue have returned from an outing at La Jolla.

Mr. W. D. McGivern and daughter, Marian, of No. 230 Bellfontaine avenue, returned yesterday from a trip to Redondo.

The Young Woman's League will give the first party and dance tomorrow evening at their rooms on East Colorado street. This will be the first social affair since the purchase of the new piano, which the league members have worked faithfully to procure.

The addition of the commercial course means additional worry for the principal, and necessities concerning planning in order to provide the necessary additional space.

In spite of the crowded condition of the school buildings the year opens under exceedingly favorable circumstances. In the vacation months extensive repairs were made in most of the buildings and additional accommodations will be under a great disadvantage unless an arrangement is made whereby additional space is provided.

The addition of the commercial course means additional worry for the principal, and necessities concerning planning in order to provide the necessary additional space.

The child-study circles, one of the most valuable adjuncts to the city schools, will take up their work anew now that the schools have opened. The circles composed of the mothers of children, and the mothers work in conjunction with the teachers in investigation and caring for the needs of the pupils in their school life. There is one circle in every school, and they meet in the school building, having the benefit of the service of the principal and his assistants.

TROLLEY PROSPECT BRIGHT.

East Whittier Man, Owner of Big Ranch, Thinks the Outlook Is Good Now.

EAST WHITTIER, Sept. 24.—C. W. Leffingwell, Jr., chairman for the citizens' committee, appointed to obtain if possible, a satisfactory right of way for a Huntington trolley line through this fertile section, thinks the end of the work is in sight. So sure of this are the men in charge, that they are taking up the shorter-lived options along the strip, that the difficulties may be decreased later. Mr. Leffingwell, who is the owner of the big Leffingwell farm, has for hundreds of carloads of high-grade lemons each year, is greatly interested in getting the road built, as it would save him hauling his fruit four miles before putting it on board the cars. He says it will help to put the fruit down the long strip of land to the trolley people in a month's time, and has their promise that the road will then be put through quickly. The survey preferred by the company and for the work will be being done by the Los Nietos east of La Habra.

The damage to the auto was mostly on the surface and the machinery was still in condition to make it possible to run to the garage by its own power.

PENNED UNDER TONNEAU.

A light rumble, driven by Harry Brown of No. 525 North Lake avenue, was struck by an electric car at the corner of Marengo avenue and Colorado street this morning and was considerably damaged. Despite the fact that the machine the car was running at low speed and the greater part of the damage was to the paint and trimmings.

Brown attempted to avoid a wagon in the street on Colorado street and failed to see the electric car, with the result that the larger vehicle hit the auto amidships and lifted it off from the ground. After the electric car had stopped it was found that the damage to the auto was mostly on the surface and the machinery was still in condition to make it possible to run to the garage by its own power.

PENNED UNDER TONNEAU.

In an attempt to stop his automobile too suddenly Donald Gleason yesterday afternoon turned his machine over. Dwight McBride, one of the officers of the Auto Club, was surprised at the overturn of the overturned car and is now suffering from congestion of the lungs in consequence. Mrs. McBride and her little child were also in the car at the time, but by a miracle they escaped without injury.

GLEASON, the driver of the car, was not an experienced chauffeur and as he wanted to stop suddenly he threw the car into reverse. The street was rather slippery and the rear wheels skidded so that the car turned completely over, burying the occupants under it.

PASADENA PICKINGS.

Hance Hall and S. W. McBride, two negroes, got into an argument this evening and got so angry that they resorted to physical force to settle the matter. They were having a lovely evening when Officer Conner and several others of the police force came along and placed them under arrest. They were taken to the Police Station and booked on a charge of disturbing the peace. Both men had been drinking and were in an ugly mood when arrested.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Miller have moved from their former home on South Grand avenue, and are established in their beautiful new residence on Columbia street. The Mrs. Miller is one of the finest and largest of the many new houses completed this year, and commands a magnificent view of the Arroyo Seco.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ingvaldsen arrived yesterday from a strenuous trip through Europe and have taken up their residence at the Hugo ranch.

While away they visited Mr. Ingvaldsen's old home in Norway, and at the coronation of King Haakon VII they attended the grand ceremony.

Later they visited Mrs. Ingvaldsen's old home in Schleswig-Holstein, Germany.

Saturday evening at the home of the Rev. T. C. Clark, Elmwood, No. 140 Elsinore avenue, Miss Mary McKenzie of Providence, R. I., became the bride of John Archibald of this city. The young couple are located for the present at Mr. and Mrs. Clark's home.

The Women Auxiliaries of the Y.M.C.A. will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Herbert Hall at No. 105 Ford Place.

armed men into the State of California. It is true that I am bringing men who are armed, but we know the men we are bringing, and they are under the most careful direction. They have been warned to use every precaution against the use of arms of any kind. But, Governor, I intend to put these men on my cars to operate them. As things are in the State of California, I see no hope of obtaining protection for my property or for the life of myself or the friends of the authorities of this State. I shall instruct my men to go on the cars armed. I shall instruct them in every way possible to maintain the peace to do their work and attend to their business. The result of it depends upon the people in San Francisco and upon the authorities of the city and the State of California. I shall instruct my men that if any attempt is made to wreck the property of the company I represent, and still more so if it is directed to injure upon the lives of the men in our employ, that they are to shoot, and when they shoot they are to shoot to kill."

SAN FRANCISCO MEN HEAR.
Nobody who saw this big six feet of manhood—Calhoun—and heard that resonant voice ringing with honest determination, could fail to feel the force which resulted in a complete victory over the labor-union bosses who had been accustomed to dictate their terms to every one in San Francisco, including the police force and the executive

With its operators, as with its machines and bellmakers, the Santa

Fé has been operating since 1890, when the Order of Railway Telegraphers, in violation of its contract, signed agreement with the management of the road, went out on a strike.

Instead of negotiating with the strikers or recognizing their organization in any way, the Santa Fé promptly filled their places with non-union telegraphers, taking the position that it would be worse than useless to treat with or organize them, which was so little regard for its work or contracts.

Since that time there has never been a day when the road had cause to regret the stand it had made or the struggle it had won.

Therefore, the telegraphers of the Albuquerque and Arizona divisions are said to be the best paid railway telegraphers in the world, their minimum of pay being from $80 to $90 per month.

In the bonus system of pay now in vogue in practically all of the shops of the system, it is generally believed that the Santa Fé has settled for all time and quantity of strikes among its members.

Therefore, the telegraphers

of the Valley division

are the ridding of the city of labor-union boss rule.

FIFTY MILLION ON WATERWAYS.

Move for Appropriation By Congress of Yearly Sum.

Representative Ransdell Here to Interest Merchants.

Crusade to Improve Harbors and Rivers of Country.

Joseph E. Ransdell, Representative from Louisiana, chairman of the executive committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, is in this city to secure the Chamber of Commerce and other mercantile bodies as members of the congress. He arrived yesterday, accompanied by his wife. They are guests at the Alexandria.

The Rivers and Harbors Congress is working hard to secure an appropriation of $50,000,000 annually for the improvement of the rivers and harbors of the country. Should the appropriation be made, millions of dollars will be added to the government's appropriations for the improvement of San Pedro harbor and other Southern California ports of entry.

Representative Ransdell is making a tour of the Pacific Coast States to arouse interest and secure the cooperation of commercial organizations in the crusade that the Congress is waging.

"The success of the Irrigation Congress, when the thirteen semi-arid States united in one solid phalanx and demanded an appropriation of $50,000,000 for the great work of reclamation, gives us courage to push this organization ahead until every river touching a great tongue producing center is improved," said Mr. Ransdell last night.

"Especially should Los Angeles and all of Southern California be interested in this movement. The great rivers of the Middle Western States that need improving will all eventually be forced to travel to the Gulf and through the Panama Canal to this state."

TO LOWER FREIGHT RATES.

"For instance, take the Ohio River upon which the greatest tonnage of any one river in the world is produced and carried. This river needs improvement for 1000 miles from Pittsburgh to Cairo. Los Angeles uses thousands of tons of manufactured products from the districts tributary to this great river and when it is possible to ship them by water to the Gulf and to San Pedro, the transcontinental freight rates will be cut to less than half of their present amounts. If this Congress is able to secure the improvement of the waters of the Middle Western States it will be possible to ship oranges to this Eastern district for half of the present price."

"I want to get every organization in this city to join with the Rivers and Harbors Congress and make such a demand upon their Congressmen that it will be an easy matter to secure this appropriation of $50,000,000 annually for the improvement of harbors and rivers. The extent to which the country is asking for the improvement of their harbors and rivers can be gauged when it is known that in bills now before Congress asking for appropriations for this work a total of $500,000 is carried."

"This is no aid upon the national treasury but what's recognized that the value of the products of the country is produced by agricultural pursuits and commerce and that both of these factors depend almost completely upon their transportation facilities, it will be seen that the appropriation of $50,000,000 annually compared with the hundreds of millions asked for other enterprises is unquestionably a modest, reasonable amount."

"Los Angeles particularly should be interested in securing this annual appropriation. San Pedro port has been fairly well cared for by appropriations. I mean that it has secured a fair proportion of what was being appropriated but that not one-third of what it should have to make the port of San Pedro one of the finest on the Pacific Coast."

"I happen to remember the figures of the receipts of lumber at San Pedro during 1901. There was a total of 780,000 tons of lumber alone received. The rail rate from Puget Sound to this city is roughly speaking, $12, while the water rate is about $4. The sum on this commerce alone has been nearly $6,000,000 in this one year—surely a good interest upon the money the government has already spent here, and how this lights up the future with promise of even greater things."

WORK FOR CONGRESS.

"I want to interest the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles to become a member of this association so that the organization, together with those of other Coast cities, will see to it that the Representatives in Congress at its next session will secure an annual appropriation of at least $50,000,000."

Representative Ransdell was one of the organizers of the Rivers and Harbors Congress, the move being made at a banquet held in Cincinnati, in June of 1905, when the Rivers and Harbors Committee of Congress was making a tour of inspection of the Ohio River. The Ohio Valley Improvement Association, which acted as hosts of the committee, suggested at the banquet that a national congress be formed. The idea was adopted once. A meeting was held in Washington, D. C., in January of this year and the organization was then performed. Since that time Representative Ransdell will make a tour of inspection today of San Pedro harbor and its vicinity. The will be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce at a reception to be held in his honor in the building on Broadway.
